HIGHER VACATION COSTS

Inflation and taxes—the Kill-joy Twins—have boosted the cost of your 1948 vacation as much as 100 per cent compared to 1940, according to the family economics bureau of a large life insurance company.

A 12-day cruise from New York City to Nassau, Havana and Miami cost as little as $120 in 1940; today the same cruise costs $218.50 minimum, an increase of 82 per cent. Nearly a third of the increase is transportation taxes, all added since 1940.

A 12-day all-expense railroad tour from Chicago through Glacier and Yellowstone National Parks cost $176.13 in 1940; the tour takes 11 days in 1948 and costs $291.95—up 66 per cent with transportation taxes accounting for nearly a fourth of the increase. Allowing for the shorter duration of the trip in 1948, the cost per day is up approximately 80 per cent.

Round trip airline fare, Chicago to Los Angeles or San Francisco, was $149.95 in 1940; the same ticket today costs $237.82, up about 58 per cent. Of this increase over one-third is due to transportation taxes.

Although the transportation tax is bypassed when the family automobile is pressed into service, other price and tax increases are encountered. The motor tourist in 1940 could usually get a room with double bed and shower in a good motor court for $2.50 or $3 for two persons. Today he will pay $4 or more. He could get a room and bath for two in an average size city hotel for $4 or $5. Today he pays 50 per cent more. Meals have approximately doubled in price.

Gasoline is up 40 per cent compared to 1940 figures, part of the increase being attributable to increased state taxes. Auto repairs cost twice as much as in 1940.

Perhaps these figures explain why more tourists than ever are on the roads this summer. People have decided that something that is as expensive as vacation has become must be worth while.

It was announced the U. S.
Treasury had a surplus of nearly $8,000,000,000 recently, but it turned out to be only a bit of government bookkeeping, than which there is nothing stranger.

Close reading of the Dixiecrat speeches failed to discover that sounding phrase: "Yes, sir; we all are against Truman."

Let's Have The Facts!

The fact of the matter is that the year 1945, the report on which is to be suppressed till long after the election although now actually being printed, was a strange and distorted year, in which our highly debatable post-war foreign policy first made itself known.

Can it be that there is information in this report which would be embarrassing to the Truman Administration, and that it is the reason why it is being suppressed?

There was many astounding measures taken that year. Lend-lease itself was in full flower for a space—and then abruptly cancelled. After it was officially cancelled, however, millions of dollars in American goods continued to be given away free to foreign countries—goods given to "win the war" already over, and embracing vast quantities of commodities which never had the remotest connection with winning the war.

For example, the bulk of the big French lend-lease gift wasn't shipped until after the war, and a huge proportion of this consisted of peacetime articles which, at that period, were desperately short on the American homefront.

Vast amounts of consumer goods, as well as unquestionably a lot of military equipment some of which is now threatening us in Berlin, was shipped to Russia or to Russian satellites in that year.

Moreover, it is possible that this impounded volume contains the first adequate figures on that strangest of all the economic monstrosities of the New Deal era—"reverse lend-lease," the cock-eyed scheme by which Uncle Sam bribed, with gold belonging to the American people, various foreign nations to accept the gifts of lend-lease itself!

This whole field of information has been garbled and suppressed, much as was the scandals of the Pearl Harbor episode.
And it is an unhappy fact that Congress, burdened with other matters and partly hypnotized with the "bi-partisan" complex on foreign policy, has largely failed to ask any embarrassing questions about these transactions.

But the people are entitled to know the facts.

They are also entitled to know just as much as can be compiled about how the Marshall Plan, or ERP, or ECA—which ever name you prefer—is working out.

The debate over this controversial program hasn't been finished yet. The charge that at least a quarter, and probably a third, of these expenditures are waste, nonsense and pure "water" has never been answered. The House objections to certain details in the program were silenced, not by facts, but by the broad Senate position that Congress was "committed" to take the program in the full amount, as is—without going into the question of whether $2,000,000,000 of the American people's money was or was not being wasted.

The one way by which it can ever be learned whether the program makes sense is to get the figures that show what commodities are being given away (bills paid by the American people) to which countries.

But the announcement of the Bureau of the Census raises great question whether such information will be revealed during the current campaign. Congress certainly should make it its business to be sure that it is released, just as fast as it can be compiled.

Since the report's statement is written in the familiar "gobblede-gook" of the bureaucrats, full of references to such items as "Tables IM 145", "commodity and country identification shown in code only," "machine tabulation EM 544", etc., etc., the exact intention of the Bureau with reference to these programs is far from clear.

But it is obvious that certain previous statistics are to be withheld, that certain digests and compilations are to be discontinued, that all reports hereafter will be released "several days later than at present," and that, as noted above, still further unspecified "retrenchments" are in mind.

This can only mean that it will be much harder, if not impossible, hereafter to turn to the one official report of what the government is doing with American money in foreign aid, and get the essential facts.

Equally annoying to American producers who want to deal with reference to foreign competition, is the Bureau's announcement that its long delayed "Schedule A", already many months overdue, will not be issued until after the end of the fiscal year—which, incidentally, means that this text book on Trade Agreements matters will not be issued until after the expiration of the present Trade Agreement's Act next summer!

Schedule A, little known to the public, is the bible of those engaged in production of goods intended to be sold abroad, or who compete with imports from other nations. It contains the masterlist of commodity classifications with their tariff rates.

We have here one of the most astonishing instances of suppression of vital information by a government in the history of this or any other nation.

Secrecy has shrouded this matter from the start. The present rates were largely worked out at Geneva a year ago. Neither manufacturers nor newspapers were allowed to learn at that time even the nature of the commodities being negotiated upon, let alone the new tariff rates being discussed.

When the announcement was finally made, it was fragmentary and confusing. Further discussion on this topic took place at Havana last spring, between the U. S. and a score of foreign competitors. No one yet knows precisely what the outcome of this "agreement" was.

The result is that thousands of industrial plants and manufacturers have been waiting impatiently for "Schedule A" as the only source in sight to tell them officially what their tariff rates are. And now they can wait another year!

It's certainly time for Congress to step in!

Ralph Fluck, a World War II veteran, has been appointed a rural mail carrier out of Perkasie and began his duties last week. Warren Hockman had been serving Perkasie Route 2 as a substitute. He made his last trip on July 17th.

Following a panel discussion concerning the affairs of the schools in their meeting in Springfield church, Springfield Township Lions Club decided to foster and promote any move on behalf of the newly-formed Palisades school board to enlarge the physical plant of Springfield high or primary school to include an auditorium and gymnasium.

The discussion followed a dinner served by the women of the adult Bible class of the church.

In charge of the discussion was the first vice-president of the Lions Club, Irving Manners and taking part were members of the school board, Martin Stenler, Durham; Lloyd Weierbach and Horace Frankenfield, Springfield, and Melvin G. Mack, supervising principal of Springfield high school.

These men in an informal manner discussed the operations of the Palisades school board, which embraces the townships of Durham, Springfield, Bridgeton and Tinicum.
Highlighting the next session will be a baseball game with members of the Riegelsville Kiwanis Club and a joint meeting at Cascade Lodge.

Colonel Mahlon Haines of York, a member of the Regional Committee of the Boy Scouts of America made the Regional Inspection on Tuesday at which time the State Health Inspection was made, and the camp was found to be in excellent condition from a physical health, safety, sanitation, and program viewpoint. The inspections in each case are very rigid and Dr. A.
J. Strathie, of Newtown, chairman of the camping and activities of the Council, who was in camp at the time of inspection, expressed his satisfaction and appreciation of the fine job which was being done by the camp staff under the direction of Bertram Scanlin and the Commissary under the direction of Frederick B. Schneck, field scout executive. The scout executive, Raymond W. Hoxworth, accompanied the inspecting party and concurred in the opinion of Dr. Strathie. During the summer period 650 Scouts will take advantage of the camping program at Ockanickon.

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT VOLUNTEERING
and the DRAFT

EVERY able-bodied young American who did not bear arms in World War II has a direct, personal interest in the new Selective Service Law. Here are the facts:

The most important thing to remember is that the U. S. Army will continue to rely on voluntary enlistments as its primary source of manpower.

Selective Service will be used only to make up the difference between authorized strength and the number of volunteers. If there are not enough volunteers to do the job, young men of 19 to 25 will be subject to call for 21 months of service, with an additional 5 years in inactive reserve status.

You may prefer to choose from a number of other courses open to you.

First, if you are 18 you may volunteer within limited monthly quotas, for one year's training with the Army of the United States. Up to 110,000 men, in monthly increments of 10,000, in this classification can be accepted. Following active duty you must, if offered the assignment, serve 4 years in an organized unit of the Reserve or National Guard; or, if not offered such assignment, serve 6 years in the inactive reserve.
Either of these requirements may be met by enlisting for 2 or more years in the Regular Army.

Second, if you are 19 to 25 you may volunteer for 21 months in the Regular Army. Upon completion of this service you must serve for 3 years with an organized reserve unit or National Guard, or serve 5 years in the inactive reserve. Either requirement may be met by extending your Regular Army enlistment 12 months.

Third—and best, you may enlist in the Regular Army for 3 or more years. There are many advantages to this course. Men of 17 to 34 who measure up to high Regular Army standards can enter on a professional career that has few equals in civilian life. Here are the important facts about these opportunities:

CHOICES OPEN TO 3-YEAR VOLUNTEERS

THE ARMY TECHNICAL SCHOOL PROGRAM permits any young man with a high school education, or the equivalent, between 17 and 34, who enlists for 3 years, to apply for and qualify for one of more than 60 splendid technical school courses taught by the Army, before he enlists. And he can be sure of attending that course after enlistment. If he wins promotion to a technical grade, he can earn the net equivalent of $4000 to $5000 a year in civilian pay.

OVERSEAS SERVICE IN JAPAN OR KOREA is open to any 3-year volunteer who selects it. Famous combat divisions now in the Far East are doing a magnificent job for democracy and world peace. Men who serve with them will have the advantages of travel and 20% increase for overseas pay.

through the hundreds of high school and college courses provided by the U. S. Armed Forces Institute. Most colleges and universities grant credits for courses completed under this educational program.

OFFICER CANDIDATE SCHOOL, leading to a reserve commission in the Army, is open to high school graduates, 20½ to 28, who can qualify. Distinguished OCS graduates are commissioned in the Regular Army.

VETERANS have special choices open to them, depending on their experience and the Military Occupational Specialties they held previously. With the expanded training program, advancement opportunities will be excellent.

LEWIS LODGE LOSES GAME TO DEMOCRAT CLUB

The Lewis Lodge team struck the Democrat Club on the rebound of three defeats and lost a hard-fought game on Leedom's field, last evening. Final score was: Democrat Club, 9; Lewis Lodge, 5.

The Lewis Lodge failed to hold a 5-4 lead which it took in the first half of the sixth inning. It had trailed most of the game, but scored five runs to take the edge. However, in the last half of the sixth the "Demies" dented the plate four times to sew up the contest.

The quartet of winning tallies were made on walks to Ferrell and Cochran, and singles by Keyes, Oriola and Purcell.

The Elks took advantage of Saggola's wildness in the fourth, fifth and sixth to score all their runs. During this stretch, the Democrat hurler passed five batters. In all, Lewis Lodge made five hits off Saggola.

"Bill" Dunkelberger, whose twirling gave Lewis Lodge a victory on Sunday was again sent to the peak, but was not charged with the defeat. He allowed eight hits but had lost his control, walking six men before he retired in the fifth. Hardy Johnson finished and was given the loss.

"Howie" Keyes robbed his brother, "Walt," of an extra base hit in the last inning when he made a spectacular catch of his liner to left field.

ASHBY'S PITCHING AND MOLL'S BAT FEATURE GAME

CROYDON, July 28—The pitching of "Joe" Ashby and a home run from the bat of "Bill" Moll featured last evening as the Croydon A. C. registered a 7-1 triumph over Bell's Aces, in a Bristol Youth League game.

By virtue of its victory, Croydon is assured of at least a tie for first place in the final standing. However, should Croydon win tonight, it will be crowned the regular season champions.

Ashby struck out seven and walked four in chalking up the Croydon mound triumph. He was nipped for three hits. A single by Gardull gave the Bell team the lone tally in the sixth inning.

Moll crashed out his homer in the sixth with the bases bare.

A meeting of the managers of the teams of the playoff of the Bristol Youth League will be held tomorrow evening at 9 o'clock in the Diamond Sporting Goods Store, Mill street.

VOLTZ NINE WINS OVER 5TH WARD BY SINGLE RUN

The Fifth Ward Sporting Club made a surprising good showing against the Voltz-Texaco team last evening on Memorial Park field, but dropped a close 2-1 decision to the Oilers in a Suburban League game.

It was the pitching of "Hal" Shackleton which doomed the Oilers. For six and one-third innings, Shackleton did not permit a base hit and in the nine innings gave up three hits, two by "Bill" Stockton and the other by Gene Stockton. Hal struck out eight.

The only marker scored off the Voltz hurler was the result of two errors and a wild pitch which allowed Mancini to cross the plate. "Smithers" Cordisco did the throwing for Fifth Ward and allowed the winners seven hits. Both runs scored off him were made in the third inning, when Shackleton and Linck hit singles and in between there was a sacrifice. A walk and error made Linck tally the winning marker.

"Alex" Dewsnap and "Easy" Mama garnered four of the Oilers' hits.

County Boroughs Form Association

State Association of Boroughs, and councilman at Bryn Athyn for 21 years. In his remarks, Mr. Pendleton emphasized the effect such an association would have on the legislature at Harrisburg, and upon the "do good" groups which oftentimes obstruct the administration of borough business. They could, he stated, also consider proposed increases in gasoline tax, changes in borough code, and he added the association would have an effect upon county officials. They would be given opportunity to discuss together common problems.

Another speaker was K. C. Acton, Bryn Mawr, member of the executive committee of Montgomery County borough association. The next meeting will be held in Quakertown on September 28th.

COSTS LESS THAN BUTTER FOR TWO!

Here at a glance is one indication of how little electricity costs. An electric refrigerator, operating for twenty-four hours, adds less than two cents to the average electric bill. That's much less than you pay for two thin pats of butter.

Yes, electricity truly is the most economical portion of the household budget. It saves food, saves work, brightens living. Yet, despite higher costs of producing electricity, it does each job for surprisingly little. And best of all, you can depend upon it. It's ready to go to work at the snap of a switch, night or day.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Tragic Situation

Washington, July 28.—THOUGH the postconvention attacks upon Mr. Truman from the so-called Democratic "liberals" exceed in savagery both those of the Republicans and the Southern Democrats, they are not of comparable importance. Mostly, they come from men whose forecasts of the convention action were ridiculous and who have now reached the level where they violently denounced Mr. Truman for waiting in a convention hall room until after his nomination instead of waiting in a hotel room as did Mr. Dewey.

WHILE these gentlemen are outraged over the alleged lack of dignity and indignity because Mr. Truman announced to a partisan convention his call for a special session which they brand as "cheap politics," strangely enough they offer criticism of Truman policies, foreign or domestic, though certainly there is plenty of reason for criticism of the latter. To repeat—bitter as these attacks are, they are relatively ineffectual because they seem inspired largely by pique and prejudice. The attack that really hurts comes from the South, where a policy and a principle are both involved, and which, unless some way can be found to lessen resentment, threatens loss to the Truman ticket of several Southern states. This probably means the overwhelming election of Governor Dewey or it might mean the throwing of the election into the House of Representatives. This is so serious that the facts ought to be fully faced. The basic one is that this is a struggle for the Negro vote in more than ten Northern and border states where, if solidified, it is sufficient large to be decisive. The means by which this struggle reached its present acute form deserve repetition.

PRIOR to 1936, there was no competition for the Negro vote. It was accepted as an unshakable Republican asset. It was ex-Senator Guffey who, during Mr. Roosevelt's first term, conceived the idea that, with White House support, Pennsylvania's big Negro vote (162,000 in Philadelphia alone) could be made Democratic. He sold this idea to Chairman James A. Farley. The astute Mr. Farley reasoned that if it could be done in Pennsylvania it could be done in other pivotal states. The Messrs. Farley and Guffey took their scheme to the White House. President Roosevelt was enthusiastic, promised wholehearted co-operation.

AS a result, these unpublished things swiftly happened: (1) A Negro editor from Pittsburgh was appointed an Assistant Attorney General—the highest public office to then any Negro had held. (2) A far larger amount of Federal patronage in ten designated states went out to Negroes than any Republican administration ever dreamed of giving. (3) Mr. Harry Hopkins, as head of the WPA, operated so heartily that the proportion of Negroes on the rolls in these states soared to the incredible heights. (4) A large number of Negro preachers, teachers, deacons and lawyers, paid by the Democratic National Committee, went out among the Negroes in these states as missionaries to spread the New Deal gospel that Roosevelt was the Negro's best friend. (5) Many thousands of a striking picture of Mrs. Roosevelt taken in a Negro group at a Negro college were distributed among Negroes in these states. There was no concern for the Negro involved in this campaign either upon the part of Mr. Roosevelt or the others. It was a coldly calculated effort to corral the Negro vote—and nothing else. And it was amazingly successful.

IN consequence of all this, Senator Guffey was proven right. The consternation of the Republicans in 1936 more than 90 per cent of their "unshakable" party asset in states was transferred to the Democrats, where it remained through 1940 and 1944. It was felt very smooth work, indeed to capture this great Negro vote in the North and at the same time hold the solid South where the doctrine of white supremacy is most deeply cherished. At the time there were some who warned that this game of playing both ends against the middle was dangerous, could not be continued indefinitely. During the Roosevelt regime it was easy enough, because—first, the demands of the Negroes were not so strongly pressed; second, the Democratic Senate majority could be depended upon to block any obnoxious legislation. In those days, too, the South more or less acquiesced in the situation. But those days are gone.

FIRMLY committed to the Roosevelt policies and pressed hard by Negro and labor politicians, Mr. Truman found himself forced to be more specific in support of anti-discrimination proposals. And, the South, faced with a Republican Senate majority, lost its sense of security and has achieved a belated but understandable degree of apprehension and indignation. This is the inevitable consequence of the short-sighted sickness of trying to hold together two utterly irreconcilable groups. The effort involved a lack of sincerity toward both. It should have been clear to those who promoted this theft of the great Republican asset of a solid Negro vote that it was bound to destroy the great Democratic asset of a solid South.

THE extraordinary extent to which the Democrats now depend on the Negro vote is shown by the new book, "Balance of Power," by H. L. Moon, whose contention, substantiated by figures, is that in 75 congressional districts in 18 Northern and border states, the Negro vote can throw an election either way. Negro leaders realize the strength of their position and keeping uncommitted to either party, have forced both to pledge laws which cannot be enforced and to press which is certain to worsen racial relations.

IT is a tragic state of affairs. It ignores the great truth that the racial gulf is still very wide and very deep; that, perhaps, it can be bridged eventually but the process has to be gradual and the effort to solve it by mandatory Federal laws is a great mistake. It isn't fair to blame all this on Mr. Truman. He just inherited it. It isn't fair to blame it all on the politicians. Being what they are, their attitude was to have been expected. The situation might have been averted had there been in both parties a few more men of the caliber and character of Senator Robert Taft, an undoubted friend of the Negro race, who publicly asserted that, much as he favors the objectives of the fair employment practices proposal, they cannot be achieved through it. On the contrary, the enactment of such an act would set racial relations back and make a great deal of trouble. For that reason he opposes it.
